

LIZ MONCRIEF Skagit Valley, WA

L.moncrief@me.com WEAVERS WAY STUDIO

970-692-3949 Instagram: moncrefliz

Liz Moncrief is a retiree from the US Forest Service in Colorado, and made the move to Washington in 2014. During her career she also maintained a small business of spinning, weaving, dyeing and loom rehabilitation. She's exhibited several woven art pieces in Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, and now Washington galleries. She's given workshops and retreats for the Estes Park Wool Fest, Scotts Bluff Fiber Festival, Pagosa Springs Fiber Fest, Northwest Regional Spinners Association, FiberFusion, Fibers & Beyond, Utah State University and Colorado State University.

In 2017 and 2022, she received awards from Complex Weavers Association, a national group, for woven pieces on exhibit in Washington and Colorado.

Since then, Liz has joined the Northwest Art Beat Studio Tour in her weaving studio. In 2023 she was asked to be one of the Featured Artists in the coveted ARTS ALIVE annual juried fine art show in Washington and is again in the show in 2024.

She is a member of the Seattle Weavers Guild, the Skagit Valley Weavers Guild, Whatcom Weaver's Guild, Peninsula Weavers Guild, and she is the Membership Chair for the Association of Northwest Weavers Guilds covering 5 states and 3 Canadian provinces. Liz is also a frequent contributor to Handwoven Magazine. She is currently an instructor in weaving for Skagit Valley College, Mt. Vernon and Oak Harbor campuses.

Her Weaving and Dye Studio can be found at www.aweaversway.com