MEAGAN CONDON

The Northeast Iowa Weavers and Spinners Guild has invited Meagan Condon to present at the 2025 Spring meeting of the Iowa Federation of Handweavers and Spinners on April 12, 2025, at the Waterloo Center for the Arts. Meagan has been a frequent contributor to SpinOff, Ply, and other fiber arts publications.

Meagan will present two talks:

In the morning: Why Does Wool Do That?

In the afternoon: Will This Weird Fiber Spin?

Also, on Sunday, April 13, 2025, at the Guild's Fiber Arts Studio in Waterloo, Meagan will offer an all-day workshop covering two topics:

- The Three C's: Crepes, Cables, Coils
- What to Do With That Braid You Just Bought

There will be space for only 13 registrants. The $140 fee will include both instruction and materials. To register for the workshops, send a check to the Fiber Arts Studio, 3257 W 4th St, Waterloo, IA 50701. Make the check payable to Northeast Iowa Weavers & Spinners Guild, and note "April 13 Workshop" on the memo line. Registration must be received by Wednesday, March 12. Registrants will receive more information about the workshops in March, such as equipment to bring and lunch options available at the HyVee next door.
